

Welcome to the website of the Musée de la Nacre et de la Tableterie!

First of all, do you know what the tableterie is?

Tableterie is the work of making small objects with hard, natural materials from the living world (plants, animals), such as wood, bone or mother-of-pearl. The tabletiers are the people who practice the marquetry. They produce buttons, dominoes, fans, brushes, belt buckles, cutlery handles and many other often useful items.

Do you know what mother of pearl is?

Mother of pearl is found inside some seashells. It is characterized by a smooth and shiny surface on which all the colors of the rainbow are reflected. It is produced by the mollusk in order to form a protective shell.

Come and visit the virtual museum, you will discover the reconstructed workshops of the museum as well as the exhibition rooms with their beautiful collector's items ... Move with your cursor. You can go from room to room by clicking on the arrows.

Extra-curricular children visits

If you want to visit the museum in real life, you can come every day, except Tuesday, from 2:30 p.m. Do not arrive after 5 pm, otherwise you will not be able to see the workshops or enjoy a demonstration of how to make a mother of pearl button. Due to the health crisis and government decisions, the museum is currently closed until further notice

Prices :

Under 5 years old: free

From 5 to 16 years old: € 3.50

Students: € 3.50

Adults: € 7

If you subscribe to "Petit Léonard" magazine, the adults accompanying you pay the same price as you!

Celebrate your birthday at the Museum!

For more information, download the document icon Celebrate your birthday at the museum and contact us here to book your snack.

If you have any questions for us, you can do so by email by clicking clouvet@musee-nacre.fr
See you soon!